HELEN HELP US!

Youth Asked For It!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help US! it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush-off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help US!, this newspaper.

Same New - Old Story

Dear Helen: Mine is a self-made problem. I was a fool, but must I pay all my life? At the age of 15, I met a 20-year-old immigrant, strikingly handsome, and, as I found out, demanding. I had never really dated before and I guess opposites attract. My parents objected, so we sneaked out, and I was too naive to know that he wouldn't stop when I told him to. I was terribly upset by my parents stood by me. We gave the baby away.

Now here was where I made my terrible mistake. I heard he has been in an accident and I went to see him because the fascination was still there. It started all over again, but this time he married me, against his will.

We have been married two years, have two babies, I am 19. He is never home; he gives me a week to live on; he won't be seen with me or the children (who he says don't belong to him). On the rare times when he is with me, he says mean, cutting things, especially about my morals and my parents. He has beaten me and once he tried to choke me. I have never heard "I love you," nor has he ever shown any love for us. He won't let me have friends and he won't baby sit, even if I want to go to the store. He seems to hate everyone, even his own parents.

My folks (who buy the baby's clothes and mine) would take me in but I don't want to involve them. Though he constantly tells me to get out, the one time I left him he made life miserable with phone calls and threats. He won't see a counselor, and I can't afford one.

My life is one big fear. For an intelligent person (in school once) I sure have turned out to be dumb. I don't know what to do or how to do it. Can anything help? — Out of My Mind

Dear O.M.: Yes! You can help yourself — by making a decision, and standing by it in spite of your fears. You said your parents will take you in. I'm sure, that they will pay the minor cost of counseling at your Family Service Agency, or perhaps a lawyer's fee. You need expert advice and possibly legal protection. When you discover that both are available, much of your misery and fright will disappear and you'll be able to face what must be done. This may include finding psychiatric aid for your husband as well as a safe place for you and the children. Don't delay! — H.

Child Of Divorce Has Her Say

Dear Helen: This is in answer to "Worried" who worried about the nonchalant way children of divorce discuss it. Really, "Worried," how else could we act? We have to accept divorces in our family and learn to live with them. If we cry about it, we won't have friends. Where will tears get us, expect to heart-

My Mother Has Been Divorced

three times and my boy friend's parents twice, both of them! We plan to marry, and I assure you "Worried" doesn't have to fret that we will take "the easy way out." Our marriage will be forever because we don't want to end up like our parents.

If there's anything to worry about it's the kids with undivorced parents who fight all the time. Or the parents who call their children jd's because they get a "C" on their report card, or ground them because of an incomplete in gym. Or parents who tell their children they can not date someone because they don't like the sound of his name. — know such parents.

Let's face it, no home life is completely happy. We all have our crosses to bear, and if we lighten them with shrugs, or humor, let us! — Lynne "Careful consideration when speaking, following your own inclinations instead of too much advice-seeking, close adherence to the work at hand... will prove beneficial in the A.M. Enjoy yourself in the afternoon, you deserve it!"

That's what the horoscope says and we are planning to follow it to the letter, especially that business in the afternoon. We hope you do the same because from a woman's point of view, there is NOTHING more enjoyable than shopping!

Let's see now... we could go to Raley's first, perhaps pick up a few pairs of those adorable shorts that fit so beautifully, at $5.00. There are several styles to choose from and of course we will want a few tops to go with them. Maybe some of the knit shells that are washable and so easy to wear with skirts, shorts and slacks. They come in lovely colors, make it hard to decide but anyway we need several. They are not expensive, only $3.00 to $5.00. Must also get some of those below-the-knee pants in Knits. The colors are real patriotic; red, white, and blue. The price is $7.00. All of imported Tall Fulo cotton knit by Jane Colby.

Next, we will look at the summer knit suits. Decoration Day is coming up and it is a double holiday. A Butte suit will do the trick, washable, smartly tailored, colorful and they just simply make you feel so right. Yes sir, we will shop in the afternoon and it's not too late to get that gift for the girl grad. The place is

King Bidding for Famous Triple Crown

By GEORGE BOWEN

BALTIMORE (AP) — Now comes Kauai King, bidding for the big one that has gotten away so many times.

Tim Tam tried it — and failed.

Carry Back tried it — and failed.

Northern Dancer tried it — and failed.

Now it's Kauai King, with victories in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, going for the Belmont Stakes — bidding for a sweep of the Triple Crown that has been accomplished only eight times since 1877 and not at all since Citation turned the trick in 1948.

"I was confident before the Preakness," jockey Don Brumfield said, and predicted that the lung-straining 1½ miles of the Belmont will be no trouble for Kauai King, who will be a $5,000 supplemental nominee for the June 4 test at Aqueduct.

Since Citation, Tim Tam, Carry Back and Northern Dancer all swept the first two legs of the gruelling test for 3-year-olds, only to be beaten in the Belmont, the longest of the Triple Crown series. The Derby is 1¼ miles, the Preakness 1 3-16.

But the picture is more promising than usual for Kauai King, whose father, Native Dancer, took the Preakness and Belmont after being nipped in the Derby for his only defeat.

The list of prospective opponents he has not already beaten is almost nonexistent. Normally, there are at least a couple of trainers who have been bidding their time for the Belmont.

None is known at this time.

The only possible fresh face to tackle Kauai King that comes to mind is Creme Dela Creme. He won his first six races this year, then lost in the Withers mile to Indulto, who finished a fading fifth in the Preakness.

Although Brumfield whipped Kauai King with his left hand only a couple of times to keep him straight in the stretch, they were nearly two lengths ahead of Stuporous at the finish.

It was another five lengths back to Amberoid and struggling in order were Rehabilitate, Indulto, Advocate, Exceedingly, Understanding and Blue Skyer.

It was the eighth victory in 10 starts this year for Kauai King and he took his earnings for owner Mike Ford to $369,027.

The time was 1:56 2-5.

Roseboro Big Gun, Dodgers Down Pirates

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
John Roseboro, whose job last winter was to prevent trouble, has caused some for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Roseboro helped Sandy Koufax win his seventh game Monday night by scoring the winning run in Los Angeles' 3-2 victory over the Pirates.

The Dodger catcher, who had gone hitless in his previous 13 times at bat, lashed a two-out double in the ninth inning and came all the way home as pinch-hitter Derrell Griffith beat out an infield single.

Roseboro remained near his home in the Los Angeles suburb of Compton last winter working in riot-torn Watts as a community relations specialist for the Los Angeles police department.

"I wanted this particular job because it meant I could do something useful for my people," the 32-year-old veteran explained. I was sickened by what I saw during the riots. I could have had an off-season job like public relations for a large corporation, but that's sterile.

"A lot of Negroes thought I would whitewash the police department, but wherever I found criticism of the police out in the community, I carried it back to police officials."

Roseboro took the Dodgers' problem in hand Monday night. As Griffith topped a roller to the right of the plate, Roseboro headed for third. Pitcher Pete Mikkelsen fielded the ball and tossed it underhand to first base.

Griffith, however, beat the throw, for his first hit of the season, and Roseboro kept going. He crossed the plate without a play being made on him.

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia walloped Houston 9-0 and Atlanta trimmed Cincinnati 6-4. Kansas City defeated Washington 5-3 in 12 innings in the only American League game.

Koufax, who has lost once, blanked the Pirates on three hits until the eighth when they tied the game 2-2 on singles by Bob Bailey and Manny Mota plus Gene Alley's two-run double. Ron Fairly homered for the Dodgers in the sixth.

Larry Jackson stopped Houston on three hits and didn't allow a runner to reach third. The Astros went hitless until Lee Maye singled with two out in the fifth. Doug Clemens hit a three-run homer while Tony Taylor belted a two-run triple for the Phillies.

Joe Torre hit a homer in the fifth inning, then powered a four-run sixth with a two-run double as Atlanta overcame Cincinnati. The Reds took a short-lived 4-1 lead when they erupted for four runs in the fifth, three on Tommy Helms' homer.

Phil Roof's first major league homer was the first major league homer off Washington's Casey Cox and gave Kansas City its victory. Roof connected with one on and two out in the 12th. Frank Howard and Jim King homered for Washington.

Johnson and Archer Setting DC Meet Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Touring pros George Archer and Howie Johnson were among the pacesetters Monday as golfers in 38 states and the District of Columbia began qualifying play for the U.S. Open Championship next month.

Professionals and amateurs seeking berths in the Open, to be played at San Francisco's Olympic Country Club June 16-19, teed off at 57 locations in the 36-hole local qualifying rounds. The low scorers will move up to 13 sectionals June 6-7, with the eventual survivors filling out the field of 150 at San Francisco.

Most of the top names in golf are exempt from the preliminary rounds, but several players on the 1966 pro tour qualified Monday.

Archer, who played in last week's Colonial Invitational at Fort Worth, Tex., paced the qualifiers at Dallas, Tex., with a 68-70-138. Don Massengale, Charles Coody, George Bayer and Jerry Edwards also advanced from Dallas to the sectionals.

Johnson, a 10-year veteran from St. Paul, Minn., led the day's biggest advance — 38 pros qualified — at Oklahoma City.

Homero Blancas, Charles Siford, Al Bessellink, Bob Cooley, Jack Rule, Joe Carr and Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez trailed Johnson but made the cut-off in the field of 104.

Bruce Cudd of Portland Ore., blazed a 70-65-135 over a par 36 layout to pace Portland qualifiers and record the day's best score. Bob Duden also made the grade at Portland with a 141.

Tom Bartolec, a 45-year-old former club pro who had played only one round this year before entering the Pittsburgh tourney, matched Cudd's 65 on his first round and followed up with a par 72 for 137.

Other low scorers included Al Wenger, 137 at Tacoma, Wash.; Walter Romans, 137 at Baltimore; Joe Taylor, 139 at Cincinnati; Larry Mowry 137 at San Diego, Calif.; and Harry Toscano Jr., 139 at Pittsburgh. All are professionals.

Bob Huber, a 17-year-old high school senior from Litzitz, Pa., carded a 72-73-145 for one of three qualifying spots at Harrisburg, Pa.

Veteran Skee Riegel advanced with a 147 at Lafayette Hills, Pa., and Dick Davies, a former British Amateur champion now living in La Costa, Calif., qualified at San Diego.

Among the prominent casualties were Rex Baxter Jr. and former major league pitcher Lou Kretlow, at Oklahoma City, and ex-hockey star Bill Ezinicki, knocked out of the Sharon, Mass., qualifying round with a wrist injury.

Humphrey Trying to Settle Feud

WASHINGTON (AP) — What constitutes a college athlete? This is one of the knotty problems facing the five-man board of arbitration named by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to resolve the five-year old power struggle between AAU and NCAA.

"We have fairly well decided where areas of authority lie," Theodore W. Kheel of New York, well-known labor mediator who heads the panel said today.

Four Bobkittens and One Senior Make Trip to Russellville; HHS Thinclads Close Out First Season with New Track

1966 FOOTBALL SCHEDULES

One senior high and four junior high endermen made the trip to Russellville for the state junior-senior track meet.

Bobby Samuels, the only Hope senior participating, placed seventh with a 52.4 sec. in the 440-yard dash.

In the junior division, Jerry Don McWilliams ran the 120-yd. low hurdles in 16:2 sec.; Jimmy Singleton ran a 2.15 sec. in the 880; Kenny Koen sprinted the 220 in 25.6 sec.; and Carroll Beck threw the shot put 46 ft. 1 in.

In the district preliminaries in Camden, Samuels and Aslin placed in the 440-yd. dash and qualified to go to the district meet in Camden where they placed 3rd and 5th, respectively.

In the junior division McWilliams placed in the 180-yd. low hurdles; Singleton the 880-yd. run; Koen the 220-yd. dash; Spraggins the 440-yd. dash; and the 440-yd. relay; Rogers, Allen, McWilliams, Koen; 880-relay; Spraggins, Allen, McWilliams, Koen; and mile relay; Spraggins, Koen, Allen, McWilliams. The last team qualified for district competition.

This year's new school records in the senior division were set by Samuels in the 220-yd. dash in 23.1 sec.; he also tied an old record in the 100-yd. dash at 10.2 sec.; Lowe 4:57.7 in the mile run; Andrews with 16.2 in the 120-yd. high hurdles and 21.2 sec. in the 180-yd. low hurdles; and the mile relay; Parris, Aslin, Samuels, Lowe, with a time of 3 min. 37.6 sec.

In the junior division the records were McWilliams, 180-yd. low hurdles, 16.0 sec.; Singleton, 880-yd. run, 2 min. 13.1 sec. Beck, shot put, 47 ft. 3½ in.; and the mile relay team—Spraggins, Allen, Koen, McWilliams—with a time of 2 min. 13.1 sec.

These ten school records were out of a possible 28 events in which records could be broken.

"For instance, it is agreed that the AAU, because of its long-time tie-in with the national federations, has the sanctioning power in international events."

"Where we have run into a road-block is in the matter of sponsorship of open and closed meets. We are seeking a clear definition of what constitutes a closed meet and what makes up a college athlete."

"What about a boy in college ineligible for athletics? Does he still fall under college jurisdiction? Then there is the summer enrollee and the postgraduate."

"This is a problem that must be settled by both sides."

Kheel opened the second day of hearings here with top representatives of the Amateur Athletic Union, long the governing body of many amateur sports, including track and field, and the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which is seeking a stronger voice in the conduct of the nation's amateur sports.

The New York mediator said that he believed that a final peace was near and he predicted that, once an agreement is achieved, there will be no breaking it.

Speedway Crowds Growing

By BOB COLLINS
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
INDIANAPOLIS—(NEA)—
Every year the two largest sports crowds in America gather in Indianapolis.

One, naturally, is the mob that pours into the Indianapolis Motor Speedway for the annual 500-mile race.
There will be nearly 250,000 citizens on hand for the 50th running May 30.

But the biggest—by far—will be the "estimated" crowd for this year's race. With clear weather, fast typewriters and some good luck estimates should be able to top the actual attendance by at least 100,000.

Total attendance for the race is a secret between the Speedway management and Internal Revenue. The Speedway adds a few more permanent seats every year. Seating capacity now is near 190,
000. And it would be no trouble at all to pack another 60,000 around the turns of

JIMMY CLARK
"defending champion"

the two and one-half mile track.

However, Speedway crowd estimators, a brave and daring lot, broke the 300,000 barrier for the first time last year, settling on 325,000.

With any luck at all, we should crash over the 400,000
mark in about three years.
New Yorkers brag that their city contains more Jews than Israel, more Irishmen than Dublin and more Italians than Rome.

Well, as you see, Hoosiers can come up with some staggering statistics for Memorial Day.

An Indianapolis 500 is a great spectacle, though. The crowd arrives the day before, swings all night, then races into the sprawling infield when the gates open at 5 a.m. When Speedway president Tony Hul-man steps to the microphone at exactly 11 a.m. and says,
"Gentlemen, start your engines," some of the spectators couldn't find an engine if they were sitting on it.

The start of the 500-mile race is one of the most thrilling sights in sport. When the pace car pulls off the track, 33 cars, cutting loose with an almost unbearable roar, race full throttle toward the first turn. The immediate thought of any first-time observer is that there is no way they can make it.

Even drivers admit that it is a frightening experience.

Men in the middle of the pack say that dust and exhaust smoke nearly blind them and they steer mostly by instinct.
Suction from the powerful, 500-horsepower engines is so great, that racers in the rear actually are pulled through the first turn by the cars in front.

It's a tough way to turn a dollar. And the obvious question is, "why do they do it?"

Would you believe money?

The total purse for the 1965 race was $628,399. This year it will be higher.
Winner Jimmy Clark earned $166,621 for his three hours and 19 minutes on the track. Drivers race for a percentage of the car's earnings, usually between 40 and 60 per cent. So it is safe to say that Jimmy took around 80 grand home to his sheep farm in Scotland.

And the pay is good all the way down the line. Jim Hurtubise who placed 33d and traveled only one of the 200 laps, was awarded $8,626.

He must belong to a good union.

NO ROOM AT THE INN—On Memorial Day, the Indianapolis Speedway is packed for the annual 500-mile race. This year is the 50th anniversary for the event.

NUMERO UNO—Mario Andretti, a Pennsylvania product, smashed the qualifying speed record at the Indianapolis Speedway by nearly five miles per hour. He averaged 165.899 miles per hour.

HOSPITALITY PLUS—
Since the last thing Australia's ocean resort of Gold Coast wants is anything interfering with a tourist's good time, there's a different twist to the task of its meter maids. Bikini-clad girls patrol the streets, not to hand out tickets but to save overtime parkers from fines by inserting coins in parking meters about to expire.

ADVICE FROM AN EXPERT—Dan Gurney, left, top contender for this year's Indianapolis 500, gets the word from a man who should know—Craig Breedlove, fastest man on wheels whose 600.601 m.p.h. over Utah's salt flats last fall stands as the world land speed record.

GREAT SCOTT!—In Boston, they're keeping Red Sox rookie George Scott well supplied with bats these days.
Scott, off to a great start, is among American League leaders in hitting, homers and runs batted in.

A Slugging Match On in the Indy Pits

INDIANAPOLIS—(NEA)—Drivers and car owners, usually a pretty casual group, are watching with eye-popping astonishment as giant automotive accessory firms slug it out for the privilege of fitting cars with their products.

At the moment, racing folk are happy spectators at the world's richest Ping-Pong match.

Nice, fat, happy figures, like $100,000, ricochet off the walls in Gasoline Alley at the Indianapolis Speedway with startling frequency these days.

One firm is rumored to have nearly $1 million tied up in a new—and very successful—racing team.

Firestone tires, Champion spark plugs and Mobil oil ran the only show in town at the "500" for years. Now Goodyear has challenged Firestone, Autolite is wrestling Champion and Ashland, Humble and Pure are moving in on Mobil.

They are spending money and the racing people are happily accepting. On top of that, the woods suddenly are full of firms pleading for the chance to shell out big money to sponsor cars.

Back in the good old days, an owner could figure it would take $50,000 (car cost $20-30,000) to run a first-class operation during May. It costs more now. But the owners are getting help.

Sometimes an owner who wanted to cut expenses could dig up a kind soul and nail him for $1,000 to sponsor the car. For this the sponsor could watch the car go around with "Fred Sideslip and Sons, Roofing, Siding, Plastering and Wild Animal Training Special," painted on the hood.

This year $25,000 is a going price. From there it runs up to the rumored 100 grand STP, an oil additive, is paying to sponsor the car of defending champion Jimmy Clark.

So far the accessory dollar war has overshadowed what looked like a decent skirmish between the Ford engine, the new monarch of the Speedway, and the new supercharged rear-engine Offenhauser. But, after the first days of qualifications, the supercharged Offies were doing only slightly better than Gen. Custer against the Sioux.

Ford powered 17 of the 23 cars which qualified the first two days and, led by Mario Andretti, who set a qualifying record of 165.899, swept all three front row positions.

Fastest Offy man was Parnelli Jones, who landed on the inside of the second row with one of the supercharged jobs.
After Parnelli, you have to dig all the way back to the fifth row, where you will find Rodger Ward in another super-charged Offy.

Andretti, the personable young Italian-American who has been clocked at fantastic speeds this month, ran over 168 m.p.h. in practice. His qualifying average, though slower, still is nearly two miles-per-hour faster than Clark, who will start next to him.

But Mario has a chassis problem. His car chassis is a Brabham, with modifications by mechanic Clint Brawner.
Clark and George Snider, the other front row occupant, have Lotus chassis. It is a characteristic of the Brabham that it does not run as well as the Lotus with a full fuel load.

Mario's crew is working day and night in search of a solution. If they can't find it, race day fans may be startled to see the fastest driver in Speedway history slowly falling behind the pack for the first 10 or 15 laps.

Once enough fuel is consumed, he can turn on the juice.
So his biggest hope now is that he won't get too far behind before the car becomes competitive.

POINT MAN—Tom Cahill, 46, is the man who now has the challenge of leading West Point back to football prominence. Cahill moves up to head coach after directing the Army plebe team. He succeeds Paul Dietzel, who resigned.

STEERING INTO THE FUTURE—In the car of the future, it promises no longer to be the hand on the wheel but on the stick. Seeking ways of developing a crashproof car, automotive safety researchers at Ohio State University have come up with an experimental automatic control system utilizing a metal bar. At left, with a television screen standing in for the windshield, technical assistant Earl Boyer tests the control stick in simulated highway travel. Right, the control bar has a button by thumb to override automatic system should manual control be necessary.

BEACH SCENE—Landing craft and Marines awaiting withdrawal after an operation create a momentarily peaceful scene in silhouette on a beach of war-ravaged Viet Nam.

TESTS PROTESTED—Opposition to the college draft deterrent test being heard from campuses across the country led to an administration building sit-in at the University of Chicago. Center of attention for the protesters is a coed wearing a sign asking
"Who is president here—University President George W. Beadle or Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey?"

(NEA Telephoto)
FAR EAST ENTRY—Reiko
Oshida, 18, of Tokyo,
Japan's Teen Princess, flashes a warm smile upon arrival in Chicago for the International Teen Princess Pageant.

ODD SIZES—Not funny money, but it still is likely to look odd to American tourists. The Bahamas is switching from the traditional British pound-shilling-pence currency to the decimal system with some unusual denominations and shapes, including a $3 bill and a square 15 cent piece. The new Bahaman dollar is worth 98 U.S. cents.

If You Are Under 25 Years of Age You'll Likely Change Jobs at Least Six Times

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail.
If you are under 25, chances are that you'll change jobs six times during your lifetime. Even men between 35 and 44 average two more changes before retirement.
Accidents are by far the biggest killers of children. Each year they take the lives of more children between 1 and 14 than the five leading diseases combined. Up to age 6 one of every four children is hurt in a household accident.
Want a placid life? You might start by painting your living room orange. Tests show that this color appears to have the least effect in stirring people's emotions.
Don't forget to bring your own salt if Jean Paul Getty, the billionaire, invites you to dinner. He doesn't keep any on his table — just superstitious.
Quotable notables — "The greatest problem of Western civilization is that it is breeding from the bottom and dying from the top" — Will Durant.
No one who has ever visited the West Coast film colony will be surprised at this. Beverly Hills tops all other communities in phones — it has 130 for every 100 residents.
At last there's a legal $3 bill. It is being issued this week by the Bahamas, which is switch-

Private Loan Authority for Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has given President Johnson authority to shift $4.2 billion in government-held loans to private investors in the next year.
The Senate completed action on the measure Monday, voting 50 to 20 to accept minor House changes in an original Senate bill. In the showdown, 47 Democrats and 3 Republicans voted to clear the measure; 18 Republicans and 2 Democrats opposed it.
The House Ways and Means Committee began work today on a proposed new national debt ceiling. But its senior Republican member said congressional authorization to transfer the federal loans to private investors made any ceiling figure meaningless.
The Treasury asked Congress Monday to raise the limit of $332 billion Congress must act by June 30 or the present ceiling of $328 billion will drop automatically to $285 billion. Congress so far has never failed to raise the ceiling.
Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., said the committee would get no help from the GOP as it considered the request. Democrats made the debt ceiling meaningless by pushing through the loan transfer bill, he said.
About 200 million young men participated in super-international baseball competition in 1965.

War Policy May Affect Oregon Vote

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Even as Oregonians voted today in their primary, a Senate supporter of President Johnson's Viet Nam policy said the Democratic balloting there does not amount to a referendum on Viet Nam — despite the general view to the contrary.
Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., acknowledged in an interview that the Viet Nam issue has some bearing but added local issues also were involved in the contest for the Democratic Senate nomination.
In any case, he said, it is unlikely any clear-cut indication of sentiment on the President's course in Southeast Asia would come out of the balloting.
In addition to Oregon, primaries are being held today in Florida, Oklahoma and Kentucky.
But national attention has centered on Oregon because Howard Morge, 52, a former federal power commissioner, is a critic of the Viet Nam war and his primary opponent, Rep. Robert B. Duncan, 45, supports the President.
Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., another sharp administration critic, has strongly endorsed Morge.
In any event, the winning candidate is assured of a tough election campaign this fall. Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, the prospective Republican Senate nominee, faces only nominal primary opposition in today's election.
Magnuson is head of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee which has the job of trying to elect Democrats to Senate seats. The committee does not take sides in primaries.
The Florida primary is a runoff between Gov. Haydon Burns and Miami Mayor Robert King. High for the Democratic nomination for governor, Burns has attacked High as the "Negro block vote candidate," raising a racial issue in the contest.
Democrats and Republicans stage runoff races in Oklahoma for nominations for governor. Former Gov. Raymond Gary and Preston Moore, a former American Legion national commander, are contestants for the Democratic nomination.

Sukarno Bows to Pressure, to Talk Peace

By AMIR DAUD
JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno has yielded to his new government and has agreed to peace negotiations with Malaysia.
Radio Jakarta reported Monday night that Sukarno had told Foreign Minister Adam Malik he could meet with Deputy Prime Minister Abdul Razak of Malaysia to discuss ways of ending the 3-year-old declared war between the two countries.
Sukarno also indicated in his speech at a GOP fund-raising dinner in Garden City, N.Y., that he will try to help set up a favorite son movement for Javits in 1968. This was regarded by some as part of an effort to bring the New York senator actively into the governor's re-election campaign.

Arkansas Outdoors

By GEORGE M. PURVIS, Chief Information, Education Division, More Fishing Records
LITTLE ROCK — One of the newest and one of the oldest state fishing records have gone by the boards. The newest involved the flathead catfish and the oldest, spotted (Kentucky) bass.
The spotted bass record was upped to five pounds, 13 ounces by Don Heuer of Batesville, who caught theunker on Greers Ferry May 13. The catch was weighed and verified by Wildlife Officer J. W. Davidson.
The old record, five pounds and 11 ounces, was set in April of 1961 by a Chicago angler fishing on Lake Norkort. The catch was registered as a world record and was the first such fish of its kind introduced into the national fishing records. Since then the world record has soared to over eight pounds, set in Alabama.
Grover Hawkins of Mountain View landed a 33-pound, eight-ounce flathead cat while fishing on the Red River on May 12. The former record had been set on April 15 of this year at 30 pounds and 10 ounces.
The G & FC slipped up in reporting recently that the 30-pound flathead beat the old record of 19 pounds. On Sept. 26, 1965 the record was set at 26 pounds by R. B. Crawford of Mena, who used redworms while fishing on the Ouachita River for the record catch that stood till April of this year.
The new records were the sixth and seventh of the year and the greatest number of records in one year since the G & FC began keeping the fishing log in 1959.
Special Teal Duck Season
Set For Sept. 16-24
WASHINGTON, D.C. — Arkansas hunters will again have a special blue-winged teal season, with the season to open on Sept. 16 and continue through the 24th. Special permits, to be issued free of charge, but the G & FC, will be required, as will a valid hunting license and a federal duck stamp.
Applications should be addressed to: Teal Permit, Game and Fish Commission, Little Rock, Ark. 72001, and sender's complete return address, including County.
The special season is being held to obtain specific information about blue-winged teal and to give waterfowlers additional hunting time. Other teal, the cinnamon and green-winged, can also be taken during the special hunt.

Perhaps an even greater number of kills would have been reported had good weather prevailed during the two hunts.
March Fine Report
LITTLE ROCK — Fishing was just too good to resist during March for 197, who responded to the call despite having no fishing license. Wildlife officers also arrested 37 hunters for hunting illegally. Fourteen deer were confiscated, 13 were killed by cars and the other by an illegal hunter. Seventeen water enthusiasts were fined for violations of boating regulations.
Trapper's Report
LITTLE ROCK — State trappers bagged 53 coyotes and 2 bobcats in April. Lone Barker took 12 coyotes and Grover Lindley trapped 10. Edgar Spears was the leading trapper of bobcats with a total of 10.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Rest, Digitalis Treat Heart Inflammation

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—What is the cause of myocarditis and how does it affect a person?
A—Myocarditis, inflammation of the heart muscle, may be caused by any acute infectious disease—especially such diseases as rheumatic fever, diphtheria, typhus, pneumonia and more rarely influenza and influenzalike diseases. The cause is sometimes obscured by the fact that several weeks may elapse between the infection and the onset of the myocarditis.
Myocarditis may be acute or chronic. It causes enlargement of the heart, shortness of breath on exertion, easy fatigability and characteristic changes in the electrocardiogram. The chief remedial measures are limitation of activity and digitalis.
Q—My 10-year-old daughter, has had pimples and blackheads on her face for two years. The doctors have not been able to help her. What causes these blemishes and what can be done for them?
A—This is no easy problem. Both blackheads and pimples or acne are associated with overactivity of the oil glands of the skin. They are usually worse during adolescence.
The following measures may be helpful. Wash the face gently three or four times a day with a plain, white soap or one that contains hexachlorophene. This will remove the excess oil and bacteria. Avoid cold cream and other cosmetics with a greasy base. Avoid squeezing the pimples or blackheads because this tends to spread any infection that may be present or introduce infection from contaminated fingers.
Drastringly cut the intake of chocolate, nuts, fats and iodized salt. Your doctor can remove the blackheads under aseptic conditions after first loosening them with hot applications but, unfortunately, they are likely to come back again in the same location.
Q—Is there any way a woman can take her own Pap smear? If so, where should she send it to have it examined?
A—Although it is theoretically possible for a woman to take her own Pap smear, this is highly impractical. Some gynecologists maintain laboratories in their offices and a specially trained technician to examine such smears. Others send them to clinical laboratories which are found in large cities but which make their reports only to doctor's.
Q—In a recent column you said, "Artificial sweeteners have been shown to be ineffective as a means of reducing calories." Does this mean they do contain calories?
A—They contain no calories but there is more to reducing than eliminating calories from your beverages.
Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper.
Space Observation Pact Negotiated
VIENNA, Austria (AP) — A Soviet space scientist says her government and the United States are negotiating an agreement for joint observation of space satellites.
Ala Massievtch told the general meeting of the Committee for Space Research Thursday that Soviet observatories would take part in a joint monitoring of an American satellite designed to measure the earth's surface.
Dr. Massievtch did not say when the satellite would be launched. A U.S. representative is scheduled to go to Moscow soon to conclude the agreement for joint observation.
Chief Soviet Delegate Anatoly Blagonravov dismissed the likelihood of U.S.-Soviet cooperation in building rockets. "Neither needs the help of the other," he said.
